PRICE FIVE CENTS

184 BALLOTS WERE SPOILED ELECTION DAY

One hundred eighty-four Adams Countyans failed to vote Tuesday because they spoiled their ballots, the official count revealed Friday afternoon.

The largest number was in Mt. Joy Twp. where 24 were not counted, 12 because they forgot to tear off the number attached to the ballots, five because they cast straight votes for two parties, four because they erased and the rest for various reasons. Straban Twp. had 18 voters who lost their votes by misuses. Hamilton had 14; Conewago No. 1, 12; Union, 12; Mt. Pleasant No. 3, 10, and Gettysburg First Ward First Precinct, 10. The others were scattered through most of the districts.

13 PERFECT RECORDS

There was an honor roll of 13 of the 44 districts where every voter voted perfectly—there were no spoiled ballots. In Gettysburg's Third Ward 1,009 persons cast ballots without making an error that spoiled his vote. The other districts with perfect records were Abbottstown, Bendersville, Berwick, Biglerville, Fairfield, Freedom, Gettysburg First Ward Second Precinct, Gettysburg Second Ward, Hamiltonban No. 1 and No. 2, Littlestown First Ward and Menallan Twp.

Had the spoiled ballots not occurred, Kennedy and Johnson would have received 49 more votes from Adams County and Nixon and Lodge would have received 77 more votes. Quigley would have received 81 more votes and Goodling 63. Worley would have had 80 more votes and Clark 72. Similar results were noted for the other candidates.

The main reason for spoiled ballots—it happened in 65 cases—was decision of the voters to vote straight tickets for more than one party. One voted a straight ticket for all four parties. One voter voted for no one.

WRONG COLOR INK

Ten used wrong markings or didn't put the markings in the squares provided.

Forty-two persons forgot to tear off the numbers on the sides of the ballots.

Thirty-seven blacked in the squares or erased.

Four people used green or red ink despite instructions saying only pencil or black or blue black ink might be used.

Six persons wrote on their ballots and others found other ways to nullify their ballots.

CITES CHURCH'S ROLE IN HELP TO EDUCATION

"No one should have a higher motive than the Christian in fostering educational pursuits or have a greater sense of freedom and responsibility in pursuing this opportunity," Rev. Dr. Carl G. Fjellman said at a Synod Men's Day conference this morning at Gettysburg College. About 150 Lutheran ministers and laymen from the Central Pennsylvania and Maryland synods attended.

Dr. Fjellman, dean and vice president of Upsala College, spoke on "The Church in the Service of Higher Education." The problem of adequate support faces private colleges in a more pressing manner than institutions with tax support, he said.

"The role of the Christian as one who serves is an important guide to understanding the proper relation of the church and higher education. Institutions of higher education are not necessarily to be supported by the church because of the service that these institutions render to the church," he declared.

CHURCH TO SERVE

"Rather the field of higher education is an area in which the church is called upon to serve. Higher education provides an opportunity for the church to exercise a responsible freedom."

Dean Fjellman said that through the centuries the Church has made it possible for Christians to serve corporately in ways they could not serve individually. He outlined "the reasons the church should seek to serve in the field of higher education" as follows:

1. To aid the colleges provide a key opportunity for "leavening all of society."
2. To preserve a witness that is relevant to a diversified, technological and scientific age.
3. To provide an opportunity to minister to men and women during important formative years.

"The church must be willing to have the academic program of any institution planned on the basis of educational needs rather than ecclesiastical desires," the clergyman-professor included.

DISCIPLINE SCHOOL BOYS

Several members of the Gettysburg High School football team have been disciplined for recent infractions of school rules, Clifford B. Snowberger, school principal, said today in an interview with a reporter for The Gettysburg Times.

"Rumors that certain members of the football team were recently under the influence are utterly ridiculous and without foundation," Mr. Snowberger added.

"We have taken what we feel to be proper disciplinary action against several members for infractions of rules on the afternoon of the final game with Carlisle."

"The young men readily admitted their guilt and now fully realize that they acted without thinking. Under any other ordinary circumstance we, a representative committee of school officials and teachers would have taken similar action. The boys have been reprimanded and the incident, so far as the school is concerned, is closed," the school principal added.

LEGION HOLDS VETERANS' DAY PROGRAM AT HS

"The freedom we enjoy is something that must be constantly cherished and vigorously guarded," Capt. William F. Richardson, assistant professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg College, told Gettysburg High School students Friday afternoon at the annual Veterans' Day program there.

"To keep our freedom alive and secure, we take inspiration from achievements of the past to work and sacrifice for achievements of the present that will strengthen and promote its spirit in our generation and for generations to come. Our freedom, our civilization and all the blessings which we enjoy were won and held for us by these men whom we honor today — our veterans — men who loved principle more than life. They are the citizens who preserved our very lives and country to cherish as the emblem of human dignity and freedom, and they set for us the example of true patriotism."

"Our newspapers, radio and television keep us constantly aware of a very formidable threat to our national security and the peace of the world. That threat of international communism to expand its influence over the free world is backed up by massive military power. As long as this threat exists it is imperative that the United States remain on guard."

CASTRO AND CHURCHMEN BATTLING

HAVANA (AP)—A battle between Roman Catholic educators and the Castro regime for control of Villanueva University here appeared to be building up today, after the expulsion of a pro-Castro student group.

Semiofficial Revolution and El Mundo, a Castro-controlled newspaper, termed the expulsions reprisal against supporters of the Cuban revolution. The expulsions were ordered Thursday by the university's Board of Discipline.

The pro-Castro students were ousted after publishing a manifesto accusing a Catholic official at Villanueva of planning to close the university and blame it on "persecution by the revolutionary government."

Villanueva University long has been the center of Catholic student opposition to the Communist infiltration of Cuba.

The Castro-controlled Federation of University Students immediately invited the expelled Villanueva students to enroll at Havana University, which they control.

World Briefs

READING, England (AP)—Twenty-seven cats—black ones, gray ones, ginger ones, striped ones—snoozed in the warm security of a big empty house today, saved from eviction by Britain's be-kind-to-animals laws.

But the law didn't save their owners, Mr. and Mrs. Montague Coling were evicted for not paying their rent.

Until the Colings find another house for themselves the cats can't be evicted without their owners' consent. The act also makes it illegal to abandon a domestic or captive animal.

So while the Colings are away, officials of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals are making daily calls at the house, loaded down with cans of cat food.

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Gen. George Grivas, hero of the underground struggle that brought independence to Cyprus, has entered politics in Greece. He says he wants "to create an honest state" and pledges to remain loyal to the west.

RABBI TO WED NEGRO SINGER AND WHITE GIRL

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Sunday wedding of Sammy Davis Jr., 34, and Swedish actress May Britt, 26, took on a formal note today with the following communique issued by the Negro performers press representatives:

"Following a private family wedding ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Davis Jr. will go to the Nordic Room of the Beverly Hilton Hotel arriving there at 4 p.m.

"They will remain in the Nordic Room posing for photographs and answering questions from the press for approximately 30 minutes. They will then depart for a private wedding which, for the convenience of their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Davis have requested to be closed to press."

Newspapers as far away as Stockholm, Miss Britt's home town, have sent reporters here to cover the rites.

SINATRA BEST MAN

The ceremony will be held at Davis' home above the Sunset Strip and will be performed by a rabbi, Frank Sinatra will be Davis' best man and Miss Britt's bridesmaids will include the wives of Davis' business manager and his pianist.

Both Davis and his bride-to-be have become converted to the Jewish faith.

A reception, to which such Hollywood names as Tony Curtis, Janet Leigh, Milton Berle, Dean Martin, Barbara Rush and Shirley MacLaine have been invited, will be held at the Beverly Hilton.

A friend of Davis explained why the rites will be closed to the press.

"Sammy realizes that this is an unusual wedding and he wants to keep it as dignified as possible. He's afraid photographers would turn it into a publicity circus."

BRIEFS

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP)—Lee Palmer Ralph, 44, had a new television set, but his farm home had no electricity. He tried to wire the set into a 7,200-volt rural-electric power line nearby and was electrocuted.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Film comedian Oliver Hardy's widow married Cleveland industrialist Ben A. Price Friday night.

Lucille Hardy, 45, was married by a justice of the peace to Price, 51, an owner of the Winslow Manufacturing Co., an electronics firm.

Hardy died in 1957. Mrs. Hardy had been in the real estate business in North Hollywood, Calif.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Carole Lugenbeel, 21, clerk for a finance company, started down a teen-age bandit Thursday. He fled after she said, "I'll give you just two seconds to get out of here."

But it was a different story Friday. A man, who apparently had read about Miss Lugenbeel's starring prowess in the newspapers, pointed a pistol at the clerk and said:

"I'm not going to do the same thing the kid did. I got the idea from him, but this is for real."

Miss Lugenbeel turned over the cash box, which police said contained about $150.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE MONFORT FAMILY

The historical and genealogical study of the Low Dutch Colony of the Conewago, with its two burial grounds and the people buried therein, is continued at this time.

It is to be regretted that in the Low Dutch graveyards, and this condition prevails in the majority of the old burials grounds not only in Adams County but in many others, there are "many graves but few markers." In quite a few instances unmarked graves can be identified by family records and newspaper obituaries but it is impossible to compile a complete list of burials for any one graveyard.

The grave of Lydia Jane Baldwin, the daughter of J. J. and S. Baldwin, who died May 3, 1855, at the age of four months and 23 days, is a case in point. It is reasonable to assume that this child was buried in the "Upper" Low Dutch Churchyard, probably because other members of the Baldwin family are buried in the same plot, but if so, the graves are unmarked. Nothing is known at the present time pertaining to this clan.

MONFORT FAMILY GRAVES

Located near the center of the "Upper" Low Dutch burial ground are the graves of the Monfort family. There are five markers in this family plot but there are also at least six unmarked graves. Some of the latter can be identified with a reasonable degree of certainty, but not all. It is interesting to note that four of these gravestones mark the last resting places of Monfort women.

The Monforts were of French-Huguenot descent, and according to family tradition, the family fled from France to Holland after the Edict of Nantes. From the latter country they came to America (probably to New York), and after living for a number of years in that state, some of them migrated to New Jersey and from thence to what is now Adams County, Pa.

John Monfort (or Manfort), the son of Peter, was born in 1717 and died May 4, 1777. He was born in New Jersey but it is thought that he died while living in the Low Dutch Settlement of the Conewago.

INSCRIPTION ON STONES

John Monfort (or Manfort) is buried in the family burial plot in the "Upper" Low Dutch Graveyard and the stone at his grave bears the following inscription:

1. "In memory of John Manfort, who departed this life March 9, 1938, aged 87 years."

Buried beside her husband, Sarah, the wife of John Manfort, has the following inscription on her tombstone:

"In memory of Sarah Monfort, who departed this life October 14, 1831, aged 63 years, 5 months and 1 day."

It is reasonable to assume that Peter, Lawrence and Francis Monfort are also buried in this plot in graves that are now unmarked. There is definite proof that all four brothers lived in the Low Dutch Settlement and the records do not mention them as "moving on to new lands" after the Revolution. Stones mark the graves of the following:

3. "In memory of Eliza, consort of Francis Monfort, died October 29, 1828, aged 27 years and 4 months."

4. "Here lies buried Elizabeth, wife of Peter Monfort, who departed this life October 7, 1820, aged 35 years and 11 months."

Also buried in the Monfort family plot is the wife of David Monfort.

5. "In memory of Margaret, wife of David Monfort, died February 2, 1858, aged 40 years and three months."

The notes on the Monfort (or Manfort) family, of the Low Dutch Settlement of the Conewago, will be continued in this column next week.

HARD LUCK ARENA

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Dit Clapper, Buffalo Bison hockey coach, could very well consider the rink here unlucky. While directing his team from the bench in an American Hockey League game a puck shattered his glasses and resulted in five stitches in his head. In the same arena 34 years ago Clapper suffered his first cut in hockey.

PLAYOFF CONSCIOUS

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven football games and a number of practice sessions by the New York Giants ruined the grass in Yankee Stadium. The Giants played six home games in the baseball park but the grass was badly torn up by the Army-Air Force football game played on a rainy Saturday in October. Bench areas and field seats contributed to the rest of the damage. The entire field has been reseeded for the 1960 baseball season.

FOUR MAJOR CONFERENCE TITLES WON

By FRED WALTERS
The Associated Press

Lock Haven, Carlisle, Conestoga, Sewickley and Washington Twp. picked up four major conference titles Friday in Pennsylvania high school football.

Lock Haven, avenging a season-end defeat last year that ruined a perfect season, clobbered Phillipsburg, 26-0, to take the West Penn title, and wind up the season with a 10-0 record.

Carlisle (9-0) easily defeated Chambersburg, 25-0, for the South Penn championship.

BEAVER LOSES FIRST

All the scoring came in the final period as Sewickley downed Beaver, 14-7, for the WPIAL-A championship. Sewickley scored first and last, with Bill Hunter's 10-yard run providing the winning touchdown.

High-scoring Washington Twp. meanwhile, won its first WPIAL-B title by walloping Perry-Lower Tyronne, 26-0, as Dave Namey scored twice, on runs of 42 and one yards.

Conestoga clinched the Ches-Mont title by beating Spring-Ford, 33-26.

OTHERS WIN TITLES

Beaver was one of three previously unbeaten teams to suffer its first loss.

Kingston was edged by Wilkes-Barre GAR, 14-13, in the match of the two unbeaten Wyoming Valley Conference leaders. GAR now must beat city rival Meyers Thanksgiving Day to clinch the title.

Philadelphia Lincoln lost its Public League game with Frankford, also by one point: 7-6. Frankford now is the city's only unbeaten-untied team.

LITTLESTOWN REPORTS

Finishing up the season unbeaten were Sayre, which walloped its big arch-rival, Cortland of New York, 33-7; Beaver Falls, the WPIAL-AA champ, with a 40-6 victory over New Brighton in a new conference game; Beaverdale, a 40-14 victor over United; Littlestown, which repeated as Laurel League champion by beating South Western, 25-6, and Albert Gallatin, which edged German Twp., 19-12.

In the three-cornered Bux-Mont race, North Penn lost to Pennridge, 19-12, while Central Bucks came through with a 25-7 victory over Ambler.

OTHER GAMES

In other games: Norristown Kenrick stayed unbeaten, 7-0, over Pennsylvania School for Deaf; West Scranton also kept its slate clean, downing Bethlehem, 18-0; Old Forge, unbeaten but tied, downed Hazleton, 34-7; Allentown Allen upset Pottsville, 25-7.

South Williamsport lost to Montoursville, 20-19; Bloomsburg shut out Danville, 13-0; Bellefonte finished with an 8-1 record, beating State College, 20-0; Easton, unbeaten, once-tied, beat Thomas Jefferson of Brooklyn, N. Y., 31-14; Altoona beat Williamsport, 19-6; and powerful Nesheim continued its adding machine

Parka-Clad Marines Push
Through Icy Hills In Korea:

Parka-clad U. S. Marines pushed cautiously five and a half miles through undefended, icy hills toward the great Changjun reservoir today.

While the marines advanced in the center of the front, there was dogged fighting near both coasts.

Back of the front, United Nations forces drew a solid defense line across the narrow waist of Korea. The line was completed by the junction of the Third Division, built up to battle strength by the addition of South Koreans and Puerto Ricans, and the South Korean Eighth Division.

Going To Harrisburg To Talk Over Square: Members of the safety committee of the borough council will meet with state highway department officials in Harrisburg Tuesday morning to discuss the council's recent action for the removal of the center plot in Lincoln Square. It was learned today. The meeting will be held in the district engineer's office in the state capital.

Council officials said the purpose of the meeting was to obtain the state highway department's view on the removal of the center plot voted at the November 6 meeting, and to discuss the traffic situation here. State employees made a survey of traffic in the square Friday.

I. C. Bucher, 63, Former Bank Cashier, Dies: Isaac C. Bucher, 63, Biglerville R. 2, died Sunday morning at 6:05 o'clock at his home following a lingering illness.

Mr. Bucher was a native of Adams county, a son of the late Daniel D. and Amanda A. (Schlosser) Bucher.

Colorful Furniture Show Is Opened: Show New Creations In Attractive Settings Here: The semi-annual furniture show opened today at the Gettysburg furniture factories. The pre-showing, before the New York and Chicago shows, is for dealers only until Friday night, when the show will be opened to the public from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Lutherans To Meet Here: On Tuesday the thirteenth annual convention of the West Pennsylvania Conference of the Central Pennsylvania Synod will be held in St. Mark's Lutheran church, Emigsville, Rev. Lloyd K. Hagg, pastor.

Holy Communion will be administered by officers of conference beginning at 10 a.m. The meditation will be given by Rev. Dr. Oliver D. Coble of Bendersville.

Miss Spicer Is Bride Sunday Of M. E. Burton: Miss Mary Ann Spicer, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Spicer, Gettysburg R. 4, became the bride of Melvin Eldred Burton, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Burton, Marsh Creek Heights, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Wallace E. Fisher, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church here, performed the double ring ceremony.

Raised Funds To Beautify Lincoln Plot; Oppose Change: "I was surprised and disappointed at the action taken by the town council for the removal of the center plot in Lincoln Square, after so many organizations had voted to retain it," James B. Aumen declared today. "Surely the citizens of Gettysburg should be consulted and their wishes respected in this as in other matters affecting the borough and themselves."

GOD, THE ESSENTIAL

The reason for a natural, essential God is that we might experience the Spiritual God as the strongest force in all creation. All is here in this world because it had to be, so as to figure all the balances and to pay humble tribute to God as the Creator of mind, body, and spirit.

The simplest flower is something immortal, even though it may be blown to the four corners of the world, after a moment of obedience at the call of our Heavenly Father, who understands each one of us better than we understand ourselves.

Napoleon has been quoted as saying that if there were no God we would have to invent one. But that wasn't necessary. He was here when the first star shone in the heavens, and the first man had to create his own breakfast! God is all and in all. The evidence is everywhere. Who put beauty and color on this planet? Who gave birth to every bird that sings at break of day, and who gave them all their bird personality?

How full of wonder is life, no matter how long it has been with us. We ought to be humbly grateful for every blessing. "Praise God, from whom ALL blessings flow."

Just Folks

LITTLE GIRL
What's a book, compared to you?
Little Girl,
There's no story half so true,
Little Girl,
Come now, clamber on my knee,
You bring more of love to me
Than my whole great library,
Little Girl.

Yes, I came in here to read, Little Girl;
But a book I do not need, Little Girl;
All the printed line could tell
You impart with magic spell,
Love and laughter with you dwell,
Little Girl.

I would be a churlish dad, Little Girl,
If for you no time I had, Little Girl,
Clamber on my knee tonight,
You can give me more delight
Than the books that great men write,
Little Girl.

You're a volume full of love, Little Girl,
Published up in heaven above,
Little Girl,
Every word of yours rings true,
Sweet the little deeds you do,
I shall never tire of you, Little Girl.

PRISONERS ON STRIKE
MEDELLIN, Colombia (AP)—One thousand prisoners went on a hunger strike Friday in protest against a ban on visits by wives and sweethearts for conjugal purposes—a standard practice in Latin American jails. Officials of La Ladera Prison called the visits immoral.

Fire losses in the United States for the first eight months of this year totaled more than $747 million.

BLOCS UNITE TO DEFEAT U.S. IN ASSEMBLY

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviet and Asian-African blocs demonstrated twice this week how they can defeat the United States if they vote together.

The votes were not on key issues but they showed that the West's "automatic majority," at which the Soviets have relied for years, became a thing of the past this session with the addition of 16 new African members to the General Assembly, now composed of 99 nations.

The votes indicate what could happen if the nine Soviet bloc nations and the 45 Asian-African members teamed up on such issues as the Congo and the sweeping Soviet demand to abolish all colonies.

The latest U. S. defeat came Friday night when the General Assembly voted to postpone elections to the Security and Economic-Social Councils. Nine members abstained on the proposal by Nigeria, one of the newly admitted African nations.

Nigeria, speaking for the Asian-African bloc, sought postponement because the special political committee is debating the issue of enlarging the councils.

Two days earlier Soviet and African-Asian blocs jammed through a move in the General Assembly to suspend debate on the Congo despite United States efforts to keep it going. That ballot was 48-30 with 18 abstentions.

HIT OPPOSITION
Western observers predicted the United States may wind up on the short end again when the Soviet item on colonies hits the assembly floor. The United States, allied with such nations as Britain, France, the Netherlands and Belgium, would not want to vote for a sweeping call to abolish all colonies. But any American attempt to water down the Soviet demands may run into opposition from both the Soviet and African-Asian blocs.

Jackson To Keep Post Until Spring
SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington said Thursday night he will stay on as Democratic national chairman until spring.

Jackson was elected chairman after the party's national convention in Los Angeles in July. He said then he hoped to resign before Congress reconvened in January.

He has changed his mind, he said, because of a campaign deficit which he said might run as high as $2 million.

Jackson also said he wants to remain in the Senate, but might just possibly accept a Cabinet post if it were offered. He added that it wasn't been.

Brazil's Railroad, Coast Strike Ends
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Brazil's railroad and coastal shipping strike ended Friday. About a half million government transport workers who struck Tuesday returned to their jobs.

Officials said the walkout was backed by Communists in an apparent test of strength of President Juscelino Kubitschek's administration.

Obviously the union leaders called out the government transport workers to get them the same level of pay given military personnel. However, a bill aimed at doing just that was already before congress.

Kennedy Holds Lead In Popular Vote
WASHINGTON (AP)—With unofficial returns complete from all but 1,672 of the nation's 166,066 voting units, John F. Kennedy still was leading today with 50.2 per cent of the popular vote.

The totals were Kennedy 33,627,229; Vice President Richard M. Nixon 33,348,397, a difference of 278,832 votes out of nearly 67 million.

Kennedy had carried 22 states with 300 electoral votes and was leading in California with 32 votes, which would give him a total of 332 electoral votes.

Nixon had carried 25 states with 188 electoral votes and led in Alaska with 3 votes for a total of 191.

Accident Bares Private Arsenal

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Gas station attendant Harry Barbour, 23, accidentally wounded another man with a pistol Thursday.

Police searched the gas station and Barbour's home and found: Nine rifles, two submachine guns, three 45 caliber automatic pistols, a sawed-off shotgun, 5,000 rounds of ammunition, a silencer and a deactivated hand grenade. Barbour was charged with violating the firearms law.

The wounded man, Clair Williams, 40, was listed in critical condition. Barbour said the pistol went off when he was unloading it.

Historian Scoffs Underground Rail

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A historian said Friday the underground railroad of historical reality was not nearly as effective as its legendary counterpart which pictured it as an elaborate network of abolitionists devoted to the escape of Negro slaves from the South.

Lara Gara, chairman of the Department of History and Political Science at Grove City (Pa.) College, said there was no national network of stations or centralized headquarters for the system.

His observations were contained in an abstract prepared for the American Philosophical Society meeting.

ALLEN QUILTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—George V. Allen, veteran of high diplomatic posts and now director of the U.S. Information Agency, is leaving government service to become president of the Tobacco Institute.

Bowman Gray, chairman of the executive committee of the organization of tobacco manufacturers, announced the election of Allen Friday and said he will take over at the institute's Washington headquarters Dec. 1.

INTEGRATION CRISIS COMING TO BIG BOIL

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—State segregation leaders prepared to prevent an 11th hour attempt to delay public school integration here on Monday.

The Louisiana Legislature resumes its 12-day special session in Baton Rouge Sunday afternoon, less than 24 hours before five Negro girls are due to enter first-grade classes at two all-white schools.

NO FURTHER MEETINGS

Lloyd J. Rittiner, president of the Orleans Parish School Board, said no further meetings were planned. The board, under orders from U. S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright to integrate schools Monday, voted last Thursday night to transfer the Negroes.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis summoned legislators back to the Capitol two days before the present special session, which he had called, was due to end. A new 30-day special session, called by Davis last Thursday, begins Tuesday upon the end of the current one.

PASSED 28 BILLS

The special session earlier this week passed 28 bills designed to preserve school segregation, including bills to give the legislators control of New Orleans schools. But Judge Wright, acting on a suit brought by New Orleans citizens, issued a restraining order telling the state to keep hands off the schools.

In other developments: (1) City police assigned a 24-hour guard to Judge Wright. A new segregation law makes any federal official working to bring about integration subject to arrest by state police.

(2) Warrants were served on state police chiefs and other officials. An order signed Thursday by Judge Wright prohibits all mayors, sheriffs, chiefs of police and district attorneys from interfering with New Orleans schools.

FRENCH TROOPS PATROL ALGIERS

ALGIERS (AP)—Army troops and police were alert in trigger-tense Algeria today lest the Armistice Day rioting turn into an anti-De Gaulle uprising.

Friday's rioting, in which some 100 persons were injured, was mostly by unorganized youths.

The Front for French Algeria, the principal representative of rightist Europeans, disclaimed any connection with the rioting, which broke out during ceremonies at the monument to war dead.

The students battled police and troops for hours before finally dispersing at sundown. The rioters smashed windows, wrecked buses, sacked the U. S. Information Center and pelted security forces with stones, tin cans and tomatoes despite showers of tear gas.

Though most observers believed the student riot was not an immediate prelude to more serious trouble, they felt the opposition to French President Charles de Gaulle's Algerian policy is building up to a new explosion.

Quarterback Phil Nugent completed 32 of his first 64 forward passes for Tulane this fall. They gained 414 yards.

A troop birthday party will be held in connection with the meeting on Tuesday in the engine house. All members are urged to return their calendar sales money Tuesday.

When the job is finished in three to six months, they will have about 400,000 barrels of the liquefied petroleum gas in the largest underground gas storage vault in the United States.

Sun Oil and Fenix & Scissos Inc., the builders, Thursday held an open house in the mammoth $3 million underground cavern.

Workers used more than 200,000 pounds of dynamite to blast out the giant storage facility—one of three at the Marcus Hook site.

Sun Oil said underground storage facilities are cheaper and occupy less space than more conventional facilities.

A field of 575 tanks covering 24 acres would normally be needed to store 400,000 barrels of propane, the company estimated, adding that facilities would cost about $16 to $20 million.

Friday's Score

Littletown, 25; South Western, 6.

Today's Game

York Suburban at Susquehanna.

The undefeated Thunderbolts of Littletown High School wrapped up the 1960 football campaign in a blaze of glory as they captured their third straight Laurel Conference championship by lacing the Mustangs of South Western High School 25-6, Friday evening in Littletown. The largest crowd in the school's history, an estimated 4,000 fans witnessed the thrilling contest.

Coach Ron Lawhead, who has just completed his first season as Bolt head mentor, tutored his squad to an undefeated season. The Bolts rolled over nine opponents and were tied only once during the 10-game card. Littletown has not been beaten in its last 18 outings over a two-year period.

Bill Bowers, one of the all-time outstanding performers for the Bolts, ran his total number of touchdowns to 24 for the year as he crossed the goal line three times. The speedy back's runs came on dashes of eight, 20 and 37 yards and the young power driver agrees that his teammates' blocking was at its best.

BOLTS STRIKE QUICKLY

Littletown lost little time in getting started. The Bolts took the opening kickoff and drove 77 yards for their first score. During the drive, which ate up 11 plays, Ted Bortner added 11 yards from the Mustang 47 to the 36. Bowers then set up the TD on a 19-yard run from the 27 to the eight. Bowers climaxed the drive with an eight-yard slice off left tackle. With 5:30 remaining in the period Larry Snyder's placement was wide to the right.

South Western had trouble handling the ball and fumbled on the kickoff with the Bolts recovering, but three unsuccessful plays resulted in a punt. After three punts were exchanged, Littletown was on the move again, this time midway through the second quarter.

End John Strevig intercepted a Don Parr pass and raced 20 yards to the South Western 40. Tom Sheely, Bowers, and Bortner carried to the 18 on five plays. On two plays, Bortner carried 11 yards to the seven. Bowers cracked the line for three, Bortner added two more to the two-yard line and Bowers capped the drive with a two-yard plunge off right tackle. Snyder missed on his second placement attempt.

MUSTANGS SCORE

South Western put on a show of its own as it took the kickoff and drove 51 yards on nine plays for its only score of the contest. Parr carried the kickoff 32 yards to his own 49. Ben Lawrence and Phil Little moved the pigskin to the Bolts' 38. Three plays later Parr, Little and Dick Stauffer had advanced the ball to the 18. Stauffer threw an incomplete pass, but on the next play Parr skirted wide around right end for 16 yards to place the ball on the two-yard line. Little bolted off left guard for the score. Mike Sullivan's kick was wide to the right.

Littletown took the kickoff and drove to the Mustang 32 as the clock ran out ending the first half. At intermission, the Bolts led 12-6. The third period was a see-saw battle as far as possession of the ball was concerned, but the Mustangs penetrated Littletown territory as far as the Bolts' 29, where they were held by a tough Littletown defense. The Thunderbolts never crossed the 50-yard stripe throughout the frame.

BORTNER INTERCEPTS

The final quarter was completely dominated by Littletown in a tough razzle-dazzle battle of football. Moments after the opening of the final period, the Mustangs moved the ball out to their own 36. Stauffer fired a pass but Bortner was there to intercept it. The fleet back scampered 21 yards to the Mustang 22 where he fumbled and Parr recovered again giving South Western the ball. The visitors moved out to the Littletown 45, but Stauffer fumbled and Bortner recovered. Bortner, Bowers and Motter carried to the Mustang 37. Bowers, behind excellent blocking, scampered off right tackle and raced up the side lines for 37 yards and the third Bolt TD. This time Snyder split the uprights.

Following the kickoff, South Western had possession on its 23. On the first play from scrimmage

15 Hydroplanes In Gold Cup Race

BOULDER CITY, Nev. (AP)—Fifteen of the fastest unlimited hydroplanes compete on Lake Mead today and Sunday in the 56th annual gold cup race, the world series of boat racing.

Miss Thriftway, owned by Wilford Rhodes of Seattle and driven by Bill Muncey, and Hawaii Kai, owned by Joe Mascari of New York and piloted by Ron Musson, may wind up as co-choices.

Miss Thriftway is the pride of the state of Washington and it captured the American Power Boat Association championship in 1960. Pilot Muncey, a veteran driver, has two Gold Cup victories to his credit.

Mascari's Hawaii Kai is based at Lake Mead and recently won the Reno Regatta. The boat won the Gold Cup in 1958.

BULLET FROSH OUTCLASS JH JAYVEES 47-0

Coach Jack Ridinger and his Gettysburg College freshman football team (4-1) closed out the 1960 season Friday afternoon when they encountered little trouble adding their fourth win as they walloped the Johns Hopkins Jayvees 47-0 on Memorial Field.

The encounter turned into a situation where the 30 Bullets could do nothing wrong and the undermanned Blue Jays, who carried only 16 men, had trouble getting their hands on the ball and once they did couldn't hang onto it. The statistics, in this case, best describe the type of ball game played. The Bullets' total offense came to 463 yards while Johns Hopkins was thrown for a net minus 23. Gettysburg completed seven of nine aeriels and at one time in the game were seven for seven.

SCORE AT WILL

The Little Bullets scored almost at will for two and a half periods. A pair of flashy running halfbacks put Gettysburg ahead 21-0 at the end of the first quarter. Phil Parsons scored twice on runs of 65 and 12 yards, the first coming on the opening play after the kickoff. Lynn Hoffman got off on a 70-yard journey. Barry Gruber added all three placements.

In the second quarter the Ridingermen tallied three more TDs. Vance Johnston threw all three six-pointers. The first was an 11-yard pass to Dave Wehr, the second went for 13 yards to Phil Parsons and the third carried for 37 yards to John Wolfgang. Gruber added two of the three kicks.

The final Bullet score came in the third period on a 22-yard aerial from Paul Harbison to Charles Blackman. Gruber missed the conversion.

Ridinger's 4-1 record places him high among the winningest college freshmen football coaches in the East.

GOPHERS TRY FOR BIG TEN TITLE TODAY

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota the Big Ten champion and No. 1 team in the country to boot? Why, a man would have been labelled daft if he even thought along such lines two months ago. The Golden Gophers—they were the plain old Gophers last year when they finished at the bottom of the league—already have compiled a 7-0 record and today they can clinch at least a tie for their Big Ten title in 20 years.

HEAVY FAVORITE

Furthermore, they are ranked No. 1 in the current Associated Press poll.

Minnesota has the heavy favorite over Purdue (2-4-1). A victory over the Boilermakers would clinch a tie for the championship. Then, if they get past Wisconsin next week, the crown is theirs.

Ohio State, ranked No. 3 in the AP poll, and Iowa, No. 5 (both 6-1) meet in a dog-eat-dog battle to decide which team stays in the running. The game was to be televised by ABC-TV starting at 2:30 p.m. EST.

OTHER GAMES

Other conference races shape up like this:

Big Five — Washington, (7-1), No. 6 in the AP poll was in a position to win its second straight league crown by beating California (1-6-1).

Big Eight—Missouri (8-0), No. 2 behind Minnesota, can clinch at least a tie for the championship by beating defending champion Oklahoma—if Colorado gets past Kansas. If both Missouri and Kansas win, the title will be decided next week when they meet. At any rate, Oklahoma, which has held down the throne the past dozen years, is out of it.

DUKE AT WAKE FOREST

Southeastern — Mississippi (7-0-1), No. 4 in the rankings, still is not in. Ole Miss, 3-0-1 in conference play, tackled Tennessee. Auburn, No. 10 nationally, and Florida, tied for second in the league standings with 4-1 records, play Georgia and Tulane, respectively.

Atlantic Coast—Duke was in a position to gain at least a tie for the championship by beating Wake Forest (2-5). Next week the Blue Devils, (6-1) rated No. 7 in the poll, could clinch it against North Carolina State.

Southwest Conference — Arkansas (4-1 in the conference) went against winless Southern Methodist. Second-place Rice (3-1 in league play) tangled with Texas A&M. That one is very much undecided.

IVY LEAGUE TITLE

Ivy League—The title was up for grabs when Yale (7-0) met Princeton (5-0).

Southern Conference — VMI (3-0) and The Citadel played for the title. George Washington knocked Virginia Tech out of the

BALD EAGLE EASILY WINS $70,000 RACE

By GEORGE BOWEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—The Washington, D. C. International was laid to rest for the ninth time Friday, but the wake was livelier than the event.

Bald Eagle took the starch out of the race by zooming off to a four-length lead in less than a quarter of a mile, increasing it to 10 after a mile and being a safe two at the end of the mile and half.

Harry F. Guggenheim's 5-year-old stud became the first two-time winner of the International and fourth to do it in American racing colors. The victory also supported his bid in the voting for best horse of the year in this country.

REDS CLAIMED FOUL

But Bald Eagle's supremacy was challenged by the trainer for Harmonizing, E. W. King. The Russians in turn tried to yell foul against Harmonizing.

On top of that, the favorite French starter Puisseant Chef dumped his rider at the start to keep boiling the aftermath talk of the International.

While Harmonizing came on to finish second to Bald Eagle, King wasn't satisfied for the horse he claimed for $6,500 in July.

Harmonizing was left practically standing at the start of the field of 11 horses from six nations. He was still eighth at the end of a mile.

"I had the best horse," said King, whose wife owns Harmonizing in partnership with Jean DiMarco. "It was the rottenest start I ever saw."

Jockey Nikolai Nasibov on Russia's Zabeg had even more of a complaint. He felt he was fouled by Harmonizing in the stretch run and he couldn't get his message through in time because of a foul up in signals.

Zabeg finished only a length behind Harmonizing and his fellow traveler from Russia, Zadorny, was another head aft.

Nasibov raised his whip to the stewards after the race, saying that is the sign for a foul claim in the Soviet Union. In this country, it's merely a sign the jockey is ready to dismount.

By the time Nasibov found an interpreter and reached the stewards' stand to complain, the result had been declared official.

Puisseant Chef's unseated jockey said his horse was scared by the movement of the arms of starter Eddie Blind.

Bald Eagle had the $70,000 first prize, Harmonizing $15,000 and the Russians $20,000.

showing in their first tournament in Australia this season.

McKinley knocked out eighth-seeded Australian, Martin Mulligan, 6-3, 1-6, 10-8, 6-3.

Buchholz defeated unseeded Fred Stolle, of Sydney, 6-2, 11-9, 4-6, 6-2.

WARRIORS AND CELTS MOVING OUT IN FRONT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Eastern Division race in the National Basketball Association shapes up as a dilly between the defending champion Boston Celtics and the Philadelphia Warriors.

The Warriors and the Celtics, running 1-2 in the East, knocked off the Western Division's top two teams, the St. Louis Hawks and the Cincinnati Royals, Friday night.

9TH STRAIGHT WIN

Undefeated Philadelphia downed St. Louis 117-112 for its ninth straight victory and Boston turned back Cincinnati 128-110 for its fourth success in six outings.

In the league's other game, the New York Knickerbockers broke a six-game losing streak with a 112-108 victory over the Syracuse Nationals.

WILT HAS 37

Wilt Chamberlain's 37-point output spearheaded the Warriors. The Hawks, Western Division leaders with a 6-2 record, were sparked by Cliff Hagan's 22 points.

In the Boston-Cincinnati game, the expected individual duel between Oscar Robertson, the Royals' heralded rookie, and Bob Cousy of the Celtics, failed to materialize. Robertson was held to 17 points. Cousy, used sparingly because of a thigh muscle injury, scored 6.

Favor Fernandez To Defeat Mayer

NEW YORK (AP)—Florentino Fernandez of Cuba is an 8-5 favorite to snap Phil Moyer's winning streak in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Moyer has won four straight this year but none of his opponents rates in the same hitting class with the Cuban.

Fernandez, ranked sixth among the welterweights, is giving up the ranking to fight with the mid-weights.

The bout starts at 10 p.m., EST, and will be telecast (ABC-TV) coast to coast. Scoring will be by the rounds system.

Patriots Whip New York Titans

BOSTON (AP)—Elated Lou Saban was talking about shaking up both divisions of the American Football League.

"We're really rolling now," the Boston Patriots' coach said after Friday night's convincing 38-21 triumph over New York.

"My guys are talking about two each over Houston and Dallas," Saban said.

Boston's victory in the AFL's only Friday action vaulted it over New York and into second place in the Eastern Division with a 4-5 record. Eastern Division leader Houston, 6-2, is at Los Angeles Sunday, while Buffalo is at Oakland and Denver at Dallas.

Boston has two games each with Houston and Dallas in its remaining five.

Butch Songin turned in his finest performance of the season in leading the Patriots on four long scoring drives and directing Boston's best offensive showing of the season.

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—The Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League have acquired right wing John McKenzie on loan from the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League.

McKenzie scored two goals in four games before suffering a back injury early in the season.

Delone Catholic High was handed a mild surprise Friday evening at Allentown when Dieruff's Huskies came up with touchdowns in each of the final two periods to snatch a 12-7 decision after the Squires had held a 7-0 lead at half time.

The payoff play was a thriller in the late moments of the final play when Jerry Transue, Dieruff quarterback, fired a long pass to Jerry Scheirer, the play covering 70 yards for the winning six-pointer.

The game resolved itself into a punting duel between the teams, Delone being forced to punt no less than eight times while Dieruff booted on seven occasions.

After a scoreless first period, Delone struck pay dirt in the second period.

Delone took over on the Dieruff 39-yard line and on seven plays scored. Don Hartlaub tossed a 19-yard aerial to Bill Timmins in the big ground-gainer, advancing the ball to the three. Hartlaub went over from the one but Delone was charged with being off-sides and the ball set back on the six. Hartlaub followed a roll-out to go over from that point. Bill Timmins added the extra point on a placement to make it 7-0.

More punting consumed most of the third period and finally Larry Nicholas, Dieruff guard, scooped up a Squire fumble on the Delone 15 and raced into the end zone to slash the Delone lead to 7-6.

The loss was the second straight for Delone to drop its record to 5-3-1. Next Friday night the Squires close their campaign when they meet Bishop Dennis O'Connell High School of Arlington, Va., at McSherrystown.

Dieruff snapped a six-game losing streak in snatching the victory to pull its log to 3-8.

Leghorn Pullet Feed Need Cited By Farm Agent Zettle

By FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

How much feed is required to grow a Leghorn pullet to laying age? A rule-of-thumb formula of long standing was 22 pounds of feed for a 22-week-old pullet. However, rations used several decades ago had more fiber and were not so delicately balanced in growth nutrients as the rations are today. Feed requirements per bird increase per bird if the percentage of fiber in the ration is relatively high and the essential nutrients are not accurately balanced.

FRANK S. ZETTEL

The Cornell Feed Service which gave the following feed requirements: Pullets were reared in confinement on all mash feed that had 1,300 to 1,400 calories per pound. Small strain Leghorns that weigh 4 to 4.5 pounds when mature consumed 11.7 pounds up to 16 weeks and 18.2 pounds up to 22 weeks of age. Larger Leghorns, weighing 4.5 to 5 pounds at maturity, consumed 12.5 pounds up to 16 weeks, and 19.6 pounds of high energy all mash by the time they were 22 weeks old.

NEED PLENTY OF WATER

Continuous high water intake by laying hens is essential for profitable egg production. Water is an aid to digestion, controls body temperature, lubricates joints and muscles and is an important part of the hen's body and its product, the egg.

Cold weather slumps in production may be caused by decreased water consumption or inadequate feed consumption. Hens do not like to drink much very cold water on cold days, so if the drinking water is slightly warmed during winter, egg production will benefit. Experimental work has shown there is a direct relationship between per cent of production and amount of water consumed.

Various devices can be used to keep water from freezing in cold weather. If no such provisions are made poultrymen are urged to replenish the water supply frequently, placing warmed water in the drinking pans. There is little sense in getting laying hens up early in the morning with artificial lighting unless clean, fresh, warm water is ready for them.

CHECK SHEEP BLINDNESS
By early winter fleeces are getting long and experienced shepherds know this is an added problem for sheep, when wool grows over their heads and faces.

As the wool gets longer it gradually covers the eyes until eventually the sheep cannot see. Wool-blind sheep are greatly handicapped because they cannot see to eat or drink properly, can't move about easily in crowded sheds or on exercise lots, they tend to become extremely nervous, and get thin and emaciated.

Often this condition goes unnoticed until the flock owner happens to notice his sheep running into the side of the barn or colliding with other obstacles in apparent confusion.

With a few deft strokes of the hand shears the trouble is easily and quickly remedied or if a number of sheep are to be trimmed, power shears may be used to advantage. Many flock owners shear all the wool from the head as far back as the ears. This one operation will usually prevent wool blindness until spring shearing time. At the same time sheep can be turned around and shears used for snipping off dunglocks and wet wool.

Country Auctions

I'm a sucker for country auctions, and, luckily for me, so is my wife, Miriam.

We know we shouldn't go to them, because we always spend more money than we should for things we don't need. But whenever we have the time, we rush to them on Saturdays and stay practically the whole day.

Of course we assure each other that we're just going to see if we can find any bargains in farm equipment. But who can really get excited by a used silage wagon or an old rusty rake?

It's the furnishings, the odds and ends and the what-nots that are alluring. How can anyone resist auction ads that offer things like these: "antique rocking chairs, bookcase filled with books, wicker chaise longue, iron umbrella stand, old coins, cream separator, copper kettles, two churns, blowtorch, three sleds, crocks, old hand-hewn and irons, oblong skillet, canopied four-poster bed, and wire stretcher (good working order)."

ARE SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Besides, auctions are social affairs. It's good to see your friends and neighbors, and it's even interesting to look around and wonder where the others came from and who they are.

Everyone comes: the wealthy dowager looking for real antiques, the farmer with his wife and children, the townspeople for miles around and the ladies of the church auxiliary, ready with their delicate hot dogs, soda pop and homemade pies.

The lord high executioner is the auctioneer, who knocks items down to you when you're not sure you want them and knocks them down to someone else when you do want them.

PIANO STOOL FOR $3.50

Twice at recent auctions, Miriam has asked me something while bidding was going on, and in each case the auctioneer hollered "Sold!" when I nodded in reply. Once she wanted to know if I was ready for a hotdog, and when I nodded I found myself the owner of a piano stool which cost me three-fifty (we don't even have a piano).

The other time she pointed out that pretty Mrs. Rayner V. Snead was there, sitting on a glider on the porch, and when I smiled and nodded I found myself the sudden owner of a frayed screen door, which cost me a dollar.

Naturally it would have been too embarrassing to try to shout to the auctioneer that I hadn't been bidding. With some of the auctioneers we have up here you don't dare bite your lip, wink, blink or even grimace, lest you buy something. They watch for cues like hungry hawks.

The best solution is to stand perfectly still, stare at the auctioneer with a blank, stupid look and pretend you don't hear if anyone talks to you. I have remained in this transfixed position so long that I could scarcely budge when the crowd finally moved away with the hypnotic auctioneer.

WOVEN BASKET HAMPER

In quaint little Washington, Virginia, at the last auction we attended, I bought Miriam a wonderful old woven basket hamper when she wasn't looking, as a surprise. It only cost me five dollars.

When I showed it to her, Miriam thanked me, a bit icily I thought. She remarked she could buy a new one like it for four dollars.

A few moments later, when my back was turned, Miriam bought a battered guitar. She came running over to me with it, a light in her eyes.

"Look, honey," she called out, "a real guitar, just for you! Now you can learn to play in your spare time!"

"WHAT WE NEEDED"

I pictured myself sitting atop a tractor strumming my guitar, or plinking it while rushing madly to Winchester or Culpeper for an implement part. I asked Miriam tremulously how much she had paid for it, and she said she got it for a bargain—ten dollars.

"But I don't know how to play a guitar," I protested, "and I don't have time to take lessons. Besides, I can buy better guitars than that for seven dollars at the pawn shop."

She looked hurt, and I felt like a heel. Today the hamper is in our bedroom and the guitar is in our living room mantel. Both Miriam and I agree they are just what this old house needed—until the next auction.

FOREIGN GRADS TO BE FIRED

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly 2,500 foreign-trained physicians working as staff members, residents or interns in American hospitals have been given their walking papers.

They failed to pass recent examinations testing their qualifications by American standards.

Many of them in America on student visas issued under the exchange program face return to their home countries. Others, with permanent immigrant visas, will be required to leave the hospitals or take lesser non-clinical positions. Some may be kept on an emergency basis in certain hospitals where their sudden removal would pose a hardship problem.

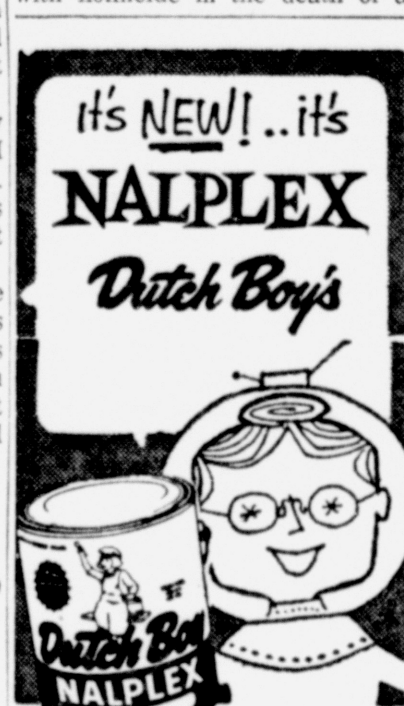

3,776 PASSED

Dr. Dean Smiley, executive director of the Educational Council for Foreign Medical Graduates, said in an interview today that the examinations were given to 8,713. A total of 3,776 passed with scores of 75 or better. A second group of 2,456 scored from 70 to 75 and were given a two-year extension. They must pass with a higher mark to stay on after that.

The 2,481 failures, Dr. Smiley said, are employed in hospitals in various parts of the nation.

9-year-old schoolmate following a schoolyard fight.

Edward Jones was arrested Thursday after he admitted fighting Tuesday with Howard Upchurch. Young Jones said Upchurch fell backward and struck his head on the concrete pavement during a recess period.

The two Negro boys returned to their classes. Upchurch later suffered convulsions in his home and was taken to a hospital, where he died.

An autopsy listed death from a brain hemorrhage.

Jones is being held for a hearing Monday. A municipal court judge will decide whether to refer the case to a grand jury or handle it as a juvenile matter.

Find 2 Dead From Carbon Monoxide

MANASQUAN, N. J. (AP) — Police entered a beach-front bungalow Thursday night and found the bodies of two young men killed by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Dr. Herbert Knapp, assistant Monmouth County physician, said the two men probably died Sunday night when gas from a space lamp filled the four-room cabin at 46 Ocean Ave.

Police tentatively identified the victims as Dario Nunez, about 21, and Joseph McPadden, 21.

The young men from the metropolitan New York area had been living in the cottage since last summer.

NO TRESPASSING

All persons are warned not to trespass on the premises of the undersigned with dog, gun or trap for the purpose of taking game in any manner or for fishing or any way injuring or destroying property. The Tom Ewell Show—Situation Comedy

By PAUL GERARD

This is the year of the situation comedy. Laugh machines are at a premium as Hollywood turns out a staggering number of half hour howling sessions designed to tickle the ribs of countless TV buffs.

Many of the new comedies do little more than amuse their own laugh tracks and will be gone after 13 weeks, while others are favored to go the distance and even remain on the air next season.

One of these favored programs is "The Tom Ewell Show," which got off to good reviews and high ratings from its very first giggle. It is seen Tuesday nights on CBS-TV and stars Ewell as a harassed real estate broker surrounded and victimized by an all girl family.

TAGGED FOR SURVIVAL

Before the television season opened, Ewell's show was one of the first to be tagged for survival in the vicious laugh areas where the gladiators rely on guffaws instead of swords to wipe out the competition.

In addition to the star's considerable talents, the series was created by Madelyn Martin and Bob Carroll Jr., the team that turned out a little thing called "I Love Lucy." The producer-director was Hy Averback who guided two years' worth of the high-rated "Real McCoys" and the show was bolstered by a top flight cast headed by Marilyn Erskine, Mabel Albertson and Cindy Robbins.

Strangely enough, while the rest of the television industry was congratulating Ewell before the first episode even went on the air, Ewell himself couldn't be prodded into saying that he had a successful series.

IS 'UNPREDICTABLE'

"No one in the world knows whether comedy is funny until it's played," says Ewell. "It's the most unpredictable form of theater, and I honestly didn't know if we had a funny show or not."

Ewell, whose peerless timing and mobile face have kept Broadway laughing from his first hit "John Loves Mary" to his latest triumph in "The Thumber Carnival," is a student of comedy and speaks of it in a scholarly fashion.

"One of the basic laws of comedy," says Ewell, "was taught to me by George Abbott — the minute you think you are funny, no one else does."

Although Ewell often privately analyzes a joke to determine whether it is funny or falls flat,

Tom Ewell (center) munches on an ice cream as he confers with Producer-Director Hy Averback (right) while a make-up man does a touch-up job.

he doesn't recommend tinkering with a joke in public to see why it produced a laugh.

"If you analyze comedy too deeply, it slips away from you and sometimes can never be recaptured. A friend of mine in a Broadway show found this out the hard way."

CONDUCT AN EXPERIMENT

"He had a scene with two other actors which always brought a big laugh. Curiosity about which actor deserved the laugh prompted them to conduct an experiment. One night the man who gave the first line read it somewhat differently while the other two responded normally. No laugh. The next night the middle man read his line somewhat differently as the others played straight. No laugh. The third night the third man read his line differently while the other two read theirs normally. No laugh. They kept this up until all the variations had been tried. Not once did they get a laugh. In desperation they reverted to the original reading but to their surprise didn't even get a snicker. This same scene invariably brought down the house before they began their experiment but somehow they had destroyed their delicate timing and couldn't recapture it. That's what comes from too much analysis in comedy."

If analysis kills comedy, how does a performer determine if a script is humorous?

"I once discussed this problem with Josh Logan," says Ewell, "and he told me how he chooses a play he wants to direct or produce. He said that he gets himself comfortable at home and imagines the play unfolding before him on a stage as he reads it. His only thought about the first reading is whether the play entertains him or not.

"I follow his advice with our TV scripts. I imagine it taking place on a television screen. I put aside the consideration of how tough it might be to do. These matters are discussed later on. If it amuses me after the first reading, that's enough. Nine out of ten times I've found that my initial reaction is correct."

In "The Tom Ewell Show," the veteran comedy star often huddles with the writer and makes suggestions. Rarely does he take issue with dialogue but seeks to perfect bits of stage business which has sustained his reputation for being a perfectionist and one of the theater's most respected actors.

Despite his enviable reputation and great knowledge of comedy, Ewell has remained extremely modest.

When a reporter recently asked him whether he regarded himself as a comedian or an actor who plays comedy, Ewell answered, "I regard myself as having worked with clever comedy writers."
